YOUTH

who have identified they would like to trial working in dairy, wool or fisheries will move to the SUPPORT phase:

BUSINESS CONNECTIONS

Dairy Australia, Australian Wool Innovation and Austral Fisheries will provide diverse business connections, and the project leader will selectively match youth with businesses for alignment in motivators, values, skills, interests and workforce needs.

WORK EXPERIENCE

A six-month experience working casual/part-time/full-time within an agriculture/fisheries business is completed after training.

NOTE:

*All individuals involved in all stages of the project will be confirmed as holding current Working with Children Checks.
The model will be scalable and replicable across all industry sectors and as part of the reporting process two downloadable e-books will be created.*

A pastoral care package will be designed and delivered to ensure that participants can travel to/from work, reside in supported accommodation, and have social supports for emotional needs during the experience.

TRAINING

Training includes both technical skills needed to safely and effectively complete entry-level work tasks and life skills for successfully transitioning to the workforce including communication, teamwork, financial awareness, negotiation/conflict resolution, and selfcare.

DALE CARNEGIE NEXT GENERATION COURSE

Program graduates will attend an in person customised version of the Dale Carnegie Next Generation course, designed specifically to build and strengthen soft and life skills for young adults.
